

Chengjie Jiang

chengjie.jiang@nottingham.ac.uk | <https://chengjiejiang.github.io/>

- Enthusiasm in psycholinguistic research (how online prediction and processing is modulated by both linguistic factors and individual differences).
- Hands-on experience collecting and analysing behavioural (e.g., self-paced reading, eye-tracking) and ERP data. Proficient in advanced statistical methods (linear mixed-effect model and Bayesian mixed-effect model).

Education

PhD in Psychology, University of Nottingham, UK 2026 (expected)

Supervisors: Dr. Ruth Filik, Dr. Walter J. B. van Heuven

MA in Foreign Linguistics and Applied Linguistics

Nanjing Normal University, China June, 2022

Awarded the National Scholarship for Graduate Students 2021 (Ministry of Education, China)

BA in English, Zhejiang University of Technology, China June, 2019

Research Skills and Techniques

Experimental techniques: ERPs, eye-tracking, (bidirectional), self-paced reading, etc.

Data analysis: Linear mixed-effects model, Bayesian mixed-effects model, etc.

Software

- Experimental builders: Ibex, Psychopy, OpenSesame, E-prime
- ERP data collection and processing: BrainVision, MATLAB
- Data analysis: R

Conference presentations

Oral Presentations

2025. Jiang, C., van Heuven, W., & Filik, R. Is world knowledge activation exhaustive or selective during language comprehension? Evidence from bidirectional self-paced reading. Oral presentations at the 31st Architectures and Mechanisms for Language Processing (AMLaP 31). Charles University, Czechia.

Jiang, C., van Heuven, W., & Filik, R. Is world knowledge activation exhaustive or selective during language comprehension? Evidence from bidirectional self-paced reading. Oral presentations at Experimental Psychology Society (EPS) Meeting. University of Dundee, UK.

Posters

2025. Jiang, C., van Heuven, W., & Filik, R. Is world knowledge activation exhaustive or selective during language comprehension? Evidence from bidirectional self-paced reading. Poster at the 11th Experimental Pragmatics Conference (XPRAG 11). University of Cambridge, UK.

Jiang, C., van Heuven, W., & Filik, R. Is world knowledge activation exhaustive or selective during language comprehension? Evidence from bidirectional self-paced reading. Poster at the 38th Annual Meeting of the Society for Human Sentence Processing (HSP 38). University of Maryland, USA.

2024. Jiang, C., & Filik, R. Expecting the unexpected: Examining the interplay between world knowledge and context in relatively unconstraining scenarios. Virtual poster at the 3rd Experiments in Linguistic Meaning conference (ELM 3). University of Pennsylvania, USA.

Jiang, C., & Filik, R. Expecting the unexpected: Examining the interplay between world knowledge and context in relatively unconstraining scenarios. Virtual poster at the 37th Annual Meeting of the Society for Human Sentence Processing (HSP 37). University of Michigan, USA.

2023. Jiang, C., & Filik, R. Hanging clothes in the refrigerator: Reversed bias in counterfactual semantic integration. Poster at the 29th Architectures and Mechanisms for Language Processing (AMLaP 29). BCBL, Spain, August 2023.

Research Experiences

2025. The influence of healthy ageing on syntactic processing in reading

- Collected eye-tracking data from 15 participants.

2022. Understanding counterfactuals in direct and indirect speech: An event-related potential investigation

- Designed the experiment; created and pre-tested the stimuli;
- Collected ERP data from 48 participants;
- Pre-processed and analysed ERP data.

2021. Can counterfactual reasoning take place independently of truth? An investigation using vent-related potentials [supported by the National Social Science Fund of China]

- Created the stimuli;
- Collected ERP data from 32 participants;
- Pre-processed and analysed ERP data using MATLAB.

2018. Cross-linguistic variation in grammaticalization processes and areal patterns of grammaticalization

- Collected self-paced reading data from 100 participants.

Teaching Experiences

October 2024–May 2025, School of Psychology, University of Nottingham

Demonstrator & Coursework Marker: Practical Methods for Psychologists

- Provided support for students conducting data analyses;
- Marked reports and provided feedback for students.
